

FROM WASHINGTON.
ALL WOUNDED THIS SIDE OF THE RIVER
THE DEAD ALL BURIED

The Record in the Case of General Buell.
THE LATEST ADVICES FROM MEXICO.
They Are Generally Unfavorable to the French.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 15, 1863.
The last of our wounded left on the other side of the Rappahannock have been brought over the river. As good care was taken of them while they remained in the enemy's lines as could reasonably be expected. Our surgeons have been with them since Gen. Hooker crossed the river. The medical stores sent over at the suggestion of Gen. Lee were taken possession of by the Rebels, but were issued to our surgeons on proper requisitions. All the dead of both armies have been buried.

THE CASE OF GEN. BUELL.
The record in Gen. Buell's case has arrived here. There is reason to believe that the findings of the Court are such as to show that the President had ample reason for removing Buell from the command of the Department of the Cumberland, and that the Government only erred in postponing his removal so long.

THE SECOND CONTROLLERSHIP OF THE TREASURY.
The Hon. Preston King is named as the probable successor of J. Madison Cutts in the Second Controllership of the Treasury.

ADVISES FROM MEXICO.
The general tenor of advices from Mexico received at the State Department to-day is unfavorable to the French, who had, on the 21st ult., made slight progress toward the capture of Puebla. The Mexicans were defending the place with desperate courage. Gen. Comonfort had received reinforcements, and was about to assume the offensive. Gen. Forey was believed to be in a perilous situation.

THE REMOVAL OF BAYARD TAYLOR.
The Republican of to-night says, as by authority! It is understood that Bayard Taylor, the Secretary of the American Legation at Mexico, has been removed from his post, and that his name is to be used against Minister Clayton in the Senate, and this is probably the cause of his removal.

EWELL TO SUCCEED JACKSON.
It is said that the dying words of Stonewall Jackson were a request that Gen. Ewell might be assigned to the command of his troops.

EXAMINING FURGEONS APPOINTED.
The Commissioner of Pensions has appointed the following Examining Surgeons: Dr. Edward Mead, Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Wm. J. Hedden, St. Joseph, Mo.; Dr. James Jewell, Catskill, N. Y.; Dr. Culbert G. Jones, vice Dr. S. Oaks, removed, Chester, N. H.

TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
WASHINGTON, Friday, May 15, 1863.
SEIZURE OF REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATE.
The Marshal of the District of Columbia has seized the real and personal estate of the following-named individuals: C. C. Cunningham, Dr. Cornelius May, Dr. Garnett (now-in-law of ex-Gov. Wise), W. C. S. W. (now-Lawyer Kettell), Frsa. Hanna, ex-Governor of Kentucky, Mrs. Schickel, Mrs. M. Clark, Martin L. Smith, Samuel Lee, and several others. In addition to these cases, there is other valuable real property to be attached in this city.

Gen. Carrington, United States Attorney for the District of Columbia, is rapidly maturing proceedings against the property of all persons who have left their homes and joined the so-called Southern Confederacy. He expects to have nearly all completed by the 1st month of June next, the return day fixed by the order of the Court. He is acting under the orders of the Attorney-General of the United States, issued several months ago.

There has been no unnecessary delay. Much difficulty exists in obtaining proof on which to base legal proceedings.

PAYMENT OF THE ARMY.
The army has been paid, mainly, to the 1st of March last. Some of the Paymasters were paying off troops during the time that Gen. Hooker was on the Southern side of the Rappahannock, and during the progress of the battle the Paymasters had to gather up their funds for safer positions.

MOVEMENTS OF MAJ.-GEN. HOOKER.
Major-Gen. Hooker was in this city to-day on official business.

CONSUL AT KINGSTON.
Judge F. H. Ruggles of New-York has been appointed Consul at Kingston, Jamaica.

NOTICE TO ENROLLMENT OFFICERS.
Provost-Marshal-General Fry has issued a notice that Provost-Marshal and members of the Board of Enrollment will be considered as declining their appointments unless they immediately notify him of their acceptance and readiness to enter at once upon their duties; the acceptance to be forwarded by telegraph whenever practicable.

CAPTURE OF A BLOCKADE-RUNNER.
The U. S. steamer Chocoma reports the seizure, on the 4th inst., of the sloop Empress, from Nassau, N. P., bound to Wilmington, N. C., with a cargo of salt. She had no flag, clearance, register, manifest, or sea letters. She was owned in South Carolina.

ALL QUIET IN THE ARMY.
The only information from the Army of the Potomac is that all is quiet, and that Gen. Hooker has returned from his visit to Washington.

INTERVIEW WITH THE PRESIDENT.
A delegation from the Philadelphia Union League had an interview with the President to-day.

FROM GEN. STAHLE'S COMMAND.
Scout for Rebels at Goose Creek and Leesburg—None Found—Skirmish with Black Horse Cavalry—Defeat of the Rebels and Death of their Entertainer.

Special Dispatch to The N. Y. Tribune.
Your special correspondent sends the following, dated: FAIRFAX COUNTY, VIRGINIA, May 15, 1863.

An expedition, under Lieut.-Col. Stagg, of the 1st Michigan Cavalry, sent out by Gen. Stahle in search of the Rebels reported to be in the vicinity of Goose Creek and Leesburg, returned to-day without having discovered any trace of the enemy, proving that the recent fears of a raid were without reasonable foundation. Several arrests were made by Col. Stagg.

A scouting party, sent out yesterday, came upon a small force of the Black Horse Cavalry at the house of Mr. Masella, five miles beyond Warrenton Junction, and a skirmish ensued. Mr. Masella was killed and several others of the Rebels wounded. Our force had three wounded. The Rebels were driven from their position and forced to retreat.

—Charles W. Merrill, Company A, 16th Massachusetts Regiment, to whom President Lincoln sent a Bible in place of one which had arrested one of the enemy's bullets at Chancellorsville, died of the wound he had on Thursday afternoon.

New-York Tribune.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 6,900. NEW-YORK, SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1863. PRICE THREE CENTS.

THE MOVEMENT UPON VICKSBURG.

The Reported Battle and Repulse of Grant at Clinton Contradicted—Gen. Grant Satisfied with the Appearance of Affairs—He Thinks Port Hudson has been Evacuated.

WASHINGTON, Friday, May 15, 1863.
The Star says a dispatch was this forenoon received here from Gen. Grant, dated the 8th inst., which shows that the Cairo dispatch of the 13th, and the Jackson, Miss. (Rebel), dispatch of the 6th, were positively untrue, the former having represented that he had beaten Bowen's Rebel army on the 6th inst., and the latter that Bowen's army had repulsed him on the 4th. In the dispatch of the 8th inst. he expresses his satisfaction at the appearance of things, and states that Port Hudson is undoubtedly evacuated except by a small garrison and their heavy artillery.

CAIRO, Thursday, May 14, 1863.
Our troops all the way from Memphis to Young's Point are moving to reinforce Gen. Grant.

Judge Kellogg, who left Gen. Grant's headquarters on Thursday last, says the report of a fight at Clinton, Miss., is untrue. Gen. Grant will endeavor to cut the railroad between Vicksburg and Jackson, and a battle is expected in the vicinity of the Black River bridge.

The Jackson Appeal says Gen. Bowen's loss at Bayou Pierre was about 1,000. The Rebel killed and wounded were left on the field. Gen. Tracy, Lieut.-Col. Pettis, and Major Tuckerman were killed, and Col. Garnett and Major Hurley severely wounded.

The Vicksburg correspondent of The Appeal takes a gloomy view of matters. He says Gen. Grant's movement deceived both our people and military men.

Gen. Bragg was at Atlanta, Ga. on the 2d inst. A dispatch from Richmond says railroad connection has been re-established between Richmond and Fredericksburg.

The Capture of Port Gibson and Grand Gulf—Bombardment of Five Hours—Seven Companies Pass the Rebel Batteries—Crossing of the Mississippi by Grant's Army—Engagements with the Enemy—Bowen's Rebel Brigade Dispersed—Death of the Rebel General Tracy—Interesting Narrative.

From the St. Louis Democrat, May 13.
By a gentleman who arrived from the scene of Grant's operation, we have the following interesting and in many particulars highly satisfactory intelligence:

On Thursday, April 30, at 8 o'clock a. m., Admiral Porter began the bombardment upon the enemy's works at Grand Gulf. His force consisted of the five gunboats—Tusculum, Lafayette, Louisville, Cincinnati, and Benton, the latter the flag-ship. The action continued for five hours.

Admiral Porter's person commanded on the Benton. The scene is described as a magnificent one; the gunboats moving in a circle for an attack upon the enemy's works, discharging their bow guns as they advanced, giving them a broadside as they were passing, and firing their stern guns as they were retreating, and within about fifty yards of the enemy's batteries. By noon all the guns of the Rebels, except three, were silenced. The works were defended by a brigade in command of Gen. John N. Bowen, of Camp Jackson notoriety, many of his command being well known characters from this city. The enemy fought gallantly, but were well protected behind casemates from our shot and shell, which were slower upon them.

The Benton was pierced in thirteen places—once through the pilot-house; her bow crane was swept away, eight of her men were killed and some fifteen wounded. In the whole fleet, only about twenty were killed, and twenty-five were wounded—the casualties on the Benton much exceeding those on any of the remaining vessels. The Tusculum was temporarily disabled, in consequence of a shot cutting her hog-dam; she then floated below out of range of the batteries, until the Rebels were repulsed. By this time she is thoroughly repaired, and prepared for action. Of the other boats two escaped injury, the third being slightly damaged.

On board the little tug Runaway, witnessing the attack, were Maj.-Gen. Grant, Adj.-Gen. Thomas, C. S. A., Gen. Grant's staff, Gov. Richard Yates of Illinois, and his staff. The tug was frequently in range of the enemy's guns. On Thursday night, Gen. Grant, with his headquarters, moved on to the river, below the batteries, under cover of the gunboats.

At dusk the gunboats dropped down and renewed the attack upon the batteries, while the transports passed down in safety. They were loaded with horses only. Five horses were killed on the steamer Cheesman, and the hull of the Forest Queen was penetrated above the water line, and some of her crew being engaged on the transports. The boats moved three miles below Grand Gulf. At 11 o'clock, p. m., the gunboats moved below the batteries, the entire fleet, gunboats and transports, moving toward Rodney, and anchored at Brighton a landing, ten miles below Grand Gulf. In the meantime the troops had been passing on the transports, and the Rebels were leaving in their hands a battery and a number of prisoners. When within three miles of Port Gibson, a severe engagement occurred, the enemy having planted several batteries at this point. While McClelland was moving on Port Gibson, McPherson was advancing on Grand Gulf, within eight miles of which he met Bowen's Rebel brigade, strongly posted.

After a brief period of skirmishing, Gen. John A. Smith's brigade charged the Rebels, capturing 300 prisoners, together with two batteries, killing the Rebel General Tracy and a large number of other officers. Gen. Bowen's horse was shot under him. The enemy fled to the swamp in great disorder, and crossed Bayou Pierre, swiftly pursued by our gallant troops.

At 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon our troops moved to the bayou, Gen. Logan's division taking the advance, skirmishing with the enemy, who had crept back, and then moved on to the bayou, where they remained, bound which they had placed their remaining batteries. Meanwhile, the Rebels were moving off their trains laden with troops and stores from Grand Gulf. McClelland's and a portion of McPherson's corps proceeded eight or nine miles above, where they constructed a bridge over the bayou, enabling our troops to cross before morning. On Sunday the enemy's works at Grand Gulf were occupied by our forces, with slight resistance, the enemy having abandoned the post, destroying their magazine and burning two siege guns, leaving two siege guns untrapped. At 5 o'clock Sunday morning, when time our informant left, McClelland was still forcing the enemy in the direction of Vicksburg. At Grand Gulf we captured 99 prisoners. The abandoned guns found there had been taken from the Louisiana. Our troops also captured four additional siege guns, posted on the bank of Black River, about two miles from its mouth.

The latest intelligence from below is that our army was still pushing on toward Vicksburg, the troops being in the highest spirits, and confident of victory. Gen. Grant's force is amply sufficient, the strength of the enemy is approximately known, and

THE RECENT OPERATIONS IN THE SOUTH-WEST—Letter from Gov. Yates of Illinois.

During the sharpest period of the engagement on our left at Port Gibson, just before midnight, Gov. Yates and Gen. Grant were standing on a spur of land opposite the casemate in which the enemy were concealed, and from which we were making the most strenuous efforts to dislodge him, when all at once a heavy volley of infantry was thrown in that direction. The bullets whistled merrily about both these distinguished personages, but fortunately neither was injured. The bystanders say it is a miracle both of them were not killed.

Gov. Yates gives the following account of the operations:

GRAND GULF, MISS., May 4, 1863.
To his Excellency Gen. H. C. Yates, Governor of Illinois.
Our arms are gloriously triumphant. We have succeeded in winning a victory which in its results must be the most important in the war. The battle of May 1 lasted from 8 o'clock in the morning until night, during all which time the enemy was driven back on the right, left, and center. All day yesterday our army was in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of the enemy at Port Gibson. Grant and I went on in pursuit of the Rebels, they giving us battle at almost every defensive point, and fighting with desperate valor. Last night a large force of the enemy was driven across Black River, and Gen. McClelland was driving another large force in the direction of Willow Springs. About 2 o'clock yesterday I left Gen. Logan, with his division in pursuit of